

Serious electrical incidents – Homeowners and community

How many serious electrical incidents?

There are eight serious electrical incidents every year in Queensland communities - one of them fatal.

Where are they occurring?

Half of these serious electrical incidents are in homes and one in six are along a rail network.

How many children are involved?

Around one in every six serious electrical incidents involve children under 15 years of age.

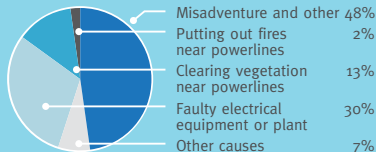

What electrical equipment is involved?

More than two in every five serious electrical incidents involve contact with high voltage powerlines.

What's the source of serious electrical incidents?

What's causing serious electrical incidents?

Electrical Safety Office